SUDDEN STOP TO INVESTIGATION

Fire Marshal Ayers Reports Read And Pronounced Lacking.

WITNESSES NOT CALLED

Inquiry Confined to The Cases Touched Upon by Ayers.

The grand jury adjourned Wednesday afternoon, declining to attempt any investigation outside of the Fire Marshal's testimony.

The following official report was made:

"The grand jury desires to report to the court that since we were empaneled on January 2, 1908, we have investigated every specific case and returned an indictment therein which was embraced in the call for this term as shown by our report to the court this morning. We have also investigated the cases of Herman Richard Crenshaw and G. B. Powell, charged with being in the raid upon Hopkinsville December 6-7, 1907. These two cases were submitted to us by the Fire Marshal, Mr. Ayres. We received a list of the witnesses from the Fire Marshal on Saturday evening last. There was no testimony or information submitted with the said list to indicate whether they were important or not. We investigated that list, but felt that we were unable to proceed intelligently with it until we received a copy of the testimony taken by the said Fire Marshal in his investigation of the raid upon Hopkinsville, and hence issued no subpoenas for the said witnesses before receiving said testimony, and we did not receive a copy of the testimony taken by the Fire Marshal in any case except the two cases of Crenshaw and Powell until 11 o'clock yesterday, January 7. Since receiving a copy of the said testimony taken by the Fire Marshal we have read every word of same and same is the testimony of most of the witnesses submitted in the said list to us on Saturday.

After careful consideration and careful reading of said testimony, we do not find sufficient proof in all of it to make a charge against any person of being a member of the mob that raided Hopkinsville, nor do we find sufficient proof therein to start an investigation against any one. Feeling, therefore, that we have fully completed the investigation of all the cases submitted to us by the Fire Marshal, or contained in the copy of the testimony furnished us by him, and having no further information before us, we desire to turn over the said testimony to the court for reference to a future grand jury and be discharged.

Keeney-Blakeley.

Miss Audrey Blakeley and Mr. Jack Keeney of the Cerulean Springs neighborhood, in Trigg county, eloped to Metropolis, Ill., Jan. 8th, and were married. The bride is a daughter of Thos. J. Blakeley. Mr. Keeney has but recently moved to a farm near Metropolis.

WHAT WE SHOULD DO.

Suggestions For Action By the People For the Year 1908.

WHO WILL START?

Somebody Should Get a Move On Themselves At Once.

The year 1908 should be a year of development for Hopkinsville. Everybody of an enterprising spirit will agree to that. We do not believe that the citizens of Hopkinsville will be contented to let the year pass in any old way—just to exist and come out even at the end of another twelve months.

But what are we going to do? Is a question that everybody ought to consider. It seems that there is no chance of getting factories of any kind. Does the future of Hopkinsville depend on getting manufacturers to invest their capital here?

Well, what are we going to do? That is the question we started out with. It is for the people to say what is to be done. It is up to the people to do something. A business man remarked the other day that it was time for the people to be about starting up new enterprises. He didn't name any enterprises that ought to be put on foot. He knows that something ought to be inaugurated and thought that it was time for the city papers to begin arousing the people to action.

We only wish that he had suggested something as a starter while he was expressing himself. Of course the papers will do their part. They always do that, but publishers as a rule are not able to finance an enterprise, no matter how plausible it may be. We wish somebody would take the trouble to let us know what the city ought to get at first. We stand ready to endorse anything that is right, from building a city park to getting up a union meeting at the tabernacle; from building a nice entrance to Riverside Cemetery to sprinkling the principal streets; from putting a drinking fountain on Main street to a dog tax. Anything that may be best for the city.

It strikes us that just now is a good time for people to lend a helping hand to the Commercial Club. We believe the possibilities of the organization are great, and are satisfied that it is open to suggestions and ready to act when occasion presents itself. But the club cannot accomplish everything without the assistance of the people. So it is plainly obvious that what is to be done during this year must, to a great extent, be done by the people themselves.

There is no doubt but that some of our people are lacking in animation just now. They seem to have gradually passed into a state of desuetude that prevailed a quarter of a century ago. They need a tonic. They are ageing too fast. They ought to get hold of the papers of some of our neighbors occasionally, Henderson and Clarksville, for instance. They have their civic associations, development committees, etc., and the people are alive as to what is needed and what may be accomplished. And they are going after everything in sight, and a good many things that are not.

We know that some of our merchants, and doubtless all of them, are anxious to see conditions more hopeful for the new year and will readily second any move that may tend to start the ball rolling. But somebody has to take the initiative. Who will it be?

ALL INDEPENDENT BUYERS FORM AN AGREEMENT

Pledge Themselves Not to Buy any Pooled or Pledged Tobacco or Receive Same if Unknowingly Purchased.

After a conference held yesterday by the independent tobacco buyers of Hopkinsville, at the suggestion of Mayor Meacham, the signed agreement below was entered into by all of the buyers of the city. For some time there have been rumors that the buyers were trying to buy Association and Equity tobacco and the County Committee of the Association appointed a committee Monday to investigate. This agreement should set at rest all apprehensions on this score and bring about a better feeling generally. The agreement follows:

Hopkinsville, Ky., Jan. 10, 1908.

In view of the fact that we have heard it rumored that we had bought tobacco pledged to the Association or pooled in the Society of Equity, we deem it only just to ourselves to say, to the public generally, that we have not knowingly bought a pound of tobacco pledged to the above named organizations, nor interfered with said pledges in any way, nor will we do so in the future.

We will say further that should we unknowingly buy any tobacco pledged to either of said organizations, we will refuse to receive same when notified by the proper officials.

We desire to add that the above has been our consistent policy. Early in the fall, representatives of the different concerns visited Judge Fowler, vice chairman of the Association in Christian county, and informed him that it was our desire to do nothing that would interfere with the amicable relations existing between us as buyers and the Association and gave him our assurance then that we would not under any circumstances, knowingly, buy any crop of tobacco pledged to the Association.

TRIGG COUNTY BANKS

Will Advance Money to Farmers On Warehouse Receipts.

Cadiz, Ky., Jan. 10.—The banks at this place and, we understand, the other two banks in the county, at Cerulean Springs and Golden Pond, have agreed to advance as much as $3 to $4 per hundred on the tobacco of our farmers as soon as it is delivered to the prize houses and the receipts filed with them. This announcement will be received with much delight by the farmers, and is another evidence of the thoroughly settled condition of the tobacco situation so far as Trigg county is concerned. The banks also declared that as soon as money matters cleared up a little more they would advance still more money per hundred upon the tobacco.

There is no doubt but that some of our people are lacking in animation just now. They seem to have gradually passed into a state of desuetude that prevailed a quarter of a century ago. They need a tonic. They are ageing too fast. They ought to get hold of the papers of some of our neighbors occasionally, Henderson and Clarksville, for instance. They have their civic associations, development committees, etc., and the people are alive as to what is needed and what may be accomplished. And they are going after everything in sight, and a good many things that are not.

We know that some of our merchants, and doubtless all of them, are anxious to see conditions more hopeful for the new year and will readily second any move that may tend to start the ball rolling. But somebody has to take the initiative. Who will it be?

WARREN COUNTY MAN

Loses Barn and Tobacco Crop By Fire Day Before Delivery.

Bowling Green, Ky., Jan. 8.—A large tobacco barn belonging to Stonewall J. Cox, who lives in the Galloway's Mill neighborhood, was destroyed by fire Monday night. Mr. Cox's crop of tobacco, which had been sold to E. L. Hendrick, of this city, and which he intended to deliver today, was burned with the barn. Besides this several head of stock in the barn at the time also perished. The tobacco alone is said to have been worth between $600 and $700. Mr. Cox had only $400 insurance on the barn and contents. It is not known how the fire started, but it is supposed to have been the work of incendiaries.

GOING UP RAPIDLY.

A Dozen or More Workmen Quite Busy on North Main.

RIVER IS SPANNED

New Bridge May Be Opened Up For Traffic In A Month.

The steel bridge over the river on North Main is being put up rapidly. Almost a dozen men are at work on it and the span has already been made. The frame work supporting the entire structure will not be taken down until all the different parts are put together. City Engineer McClauid said yesterday, with good weather conditions, the steel frame work will all be in position by Monday or Tuesday night. He said that the time as to when the entire bridge will be ready for service cannot be foretold. After the frame work is finished the work of putting in the concrete floors will begin. Both the drive and foot way floors are to be of concrete. Pedestrians will be allowed the use of the footways a week after the concrete work is done, but the driveway cannot be opened for three weeks after the concrete floor is put down, as it will take at least that long for the work to settle and solidify.

The people on the North side of the bridge have been very patient since the old bridge was torn down last fall. Though they had to "con it" over the temporary crossing for over three months, they are very much elated that they are to have a bridge that is wide enough for the passage of vehicles without causing people afoot to have to wait for a chance to get over. The driveway will be 20 feet in width. The footways on both sides will be 5 feet in width and will be separated from the driveway by iron railings.

G. B. POWELL GIVES BOND

Came to Town and Surrendered When Notified of Indictment.

ALIBI AS DEFENSE:

Several Local Men Became His Bondsman, Including Jailer Johnson.

Geo. B. Powell, the man indicted by the grand jury charged with being in the mob Dec. 7, came to town Thursday and executed a $1,000 bond with the following signers: M. W. Barnes, T. J. Tate, N. O. King, H. C. Myers, S. T. Henderson, G. L. Rogers, J. T. Walker and W. W. Johnson.

His defense will be an alibi on the night of the raid.

The accused is 45 years old and is a well-to-do farmer of the Fruit Hill neighborhood. He has a family consisting of a wife and five children. He owns a farm of 500 acres.

Mr. Powell's kinsman, Rev. T. T. Powell, is a member of the county executive committee of the tobacco association.

STEVENSON-PROCTOR

Christian County Boy Will Marry at Auburn.

Announcement is made of the approaching marriage of Mr. R. L. Stevenson, formerly of this county, and Miss Ida May Proctor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Proctor, of Auburn, the wedding to take place at the home of the bride Jan. 22. Mr. Stevenson was reared near Bennetts town and has been in the employ of the L. & N. railroad company for several years. He is now agent for the company at Auburn.

The Weather.

For Kentucky—Clearing and colder Saturday.

The first bill introduced in the Senate was a bill to repeal the dog law.

Soldiers are now on duty in three other cities besides Hopkinsville—Lexington, Cynthiana and Lebanon.

Women of thirteen clubs in Chicago pledged themselves to refrain from wearing the plumage of any birds save crows, domestic fowls also being excluded from the compact.

Senator Knox introduces a bill providing for a new employers' liability law intended to correct the defects in the statute recently declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court.

The Aldrich emergency currency bill, providing for an addition of $250,000,000 to the nation's circulating medium in times of stress, was presented to the Senate Tuesday.

Eighty or more of Ohio excursionists were injured Tuesday by the wrecking of a special train on a trestle between Dallas, and Hiram, Ga. The engineer was killed. Three of the injured will die.

Miss Kate Taylor, youngest daughter of Senator Taylor, was married Jan. 8 to Hillsman Taylor, of Trenton, Tenn. The bride and groom are not related, though bearing the same name.

The Democratic caucus re-nominated Finley E. Fogg, of Morgan county, as Prison Commissioner. He won on the first ballot, over N. A. Gray, of Lyon, and W. O. Coleman, of Spencer.

Stokes Jackson, Tom Taggart's candidate for chairman of the Indiana Democratic ticket, was elected on the forty-first ballot. Adam Heimberger, of New Albany was chosen as vice chairman.

The Russellville News says a man who counted the Night Riders as they left town after the fire of Jan. 3, said there were only 53 in the crowd. They hitched their horses just outside the city. The same paper puts the losses at $40,000. They were in town only about one hour.

F. A. Heinze, the Montana copper king, was indicted by the federal grand jury in New York on the charge of certifying fifteen checks when his brothers' firm, which drew them, did not have funds in the Mercantile National Bank, of which he was president.

The Senate at Frankfort adopted a resolution providing for the appointment of a joint committee to thoroughly investigate the tobacco situation in Kentucky. The committee is given power to summon witnesses and employ legal counsel. It will also be instructed to inquire into the feasibility of using convict and reform school labor in the manufacture of tobacco.

Cicero M. Barnett, President of the American Society of Equity, was arrested in Indianapolis Wednesday on a warrant sworn out by J. A. Everett, the deposed President. He gave bond with W. S. Taylor as his bondsman. Everett charges him with criminal libel. It is said that the row between Barnett and Everett has split the American Society of Equity and that Everett will re-organize one part of it as the Farmers' Society of Equity.

FREIGHT CARS

Badly Damaged and One Person Injured in Wreck.

Clarksville, Tenn., Jan. 8.—A wreck occurred yesterday afternoon on the Princeton branch of the Louisville & Nashville between Kennedy and Glen Eddy. The train consisted of two passenger coaches and four freight cars loaded with wheat. The freight cars and coaches were derailed and one passenger, J. W. Thacker, of Lafayette, Ky., was thrown from his seat and seriously injured about the face. The freight cars were badly damaged.

NOTHING DOING.

Police Force, However Vigilant Making No Arrests

Practically there is nothing doing in police circles. The force is almost spoiling for a case of arrest, but for several days they have been on the lookout in vain. Nothing appears on the record since the 6th of this month when two arrests of little importance were made. If this continues much longer the month of January will be a record breaker for good behavior.

BURIED 326 IN 4 YEARS.

Of This 78 Were Children and 248 Adults.

In 1904, 85 graves were dug in Riverside Cemetery, in 1905, 79; in 1906, 76, and 1907, 86. During the same period 91 bodies have been removed from other grave yards. The receipts in four years were $1,497.50 for digging graves and $5,102.65 from the sale of lots.

WEEK OF PRAYER

Closed Last Night With Good Attendance.

The Week of Prayer closed last night. The attendance, though somewhat smaller at the beginning was much larger from Wednesday night to the close of the services.

Roundly Condemned.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 7.—The Board of National Directors of the American Society of Equity denounced the action of the Kentucky night riders at its session here today and authorized its President, C. M. Barnett, of Hartford, Ky., to offer a reward of $100 to any one who furnishes sufficient evidence against a member in good standing that he has taken part in the lawlessness.

AMUSEMENTS

It seems odd to characterize a rural drama as thoroughly wholesome, for that is supposed to be one of their strong points. Yet when one stops to think of it, most of them have some disagreeable story of a wronged girl who is wandering around in the snow on a wintry night looking for her wedding certificate. But in "Quincy Adams Sawyer," reports of which, from New York, where it ran recently for many weeks at the Academy of Music, seem to indicate that it is the latest and best of rural dramas. Critics everywhere have sung its praises as the purest, sweetest and most wholesome of rural dramas. And then too, there is more comedy in it than other plays of its class. In fact it is built largely on comedy lines. So much so that one writer described it as "one great big laugh from beginning to end." The serious part of it is the story of a blind country girl. No small amount of credit for the heartfelt sympathy that goes out to the blind girl, Alice Pettengill, in her deep affliction, is said to be due to the true and careful portrayal of the part. The play comes here for one night at Holland's Opera House, Saturday, Jan. 18.

FAT WOMAN TURNS SUMMERSAULTS

Teaches Class of Ballet Girls Calisthenics and Gymnastics.

The celebrated Helen Burnside tells a story to the society reporter of a leading New York evening paper in this way: "Several months ago I was attending the Ballet when I met an old fellow chum. She was rather astounded at my sporting so much jolly fat and asked me what I was doing. As a matter of fact I wasn't doing anything just at that time but taking long, some walks and doing nothing but my breakfast and late supper, drinking double-dimmed milk, and taking a horrible patent medicine. My friend was rather interested in knowing more about the success that I was having with this strenuous late work and was astonished to learn that I had lost only ten ounces in three weeks.

"I think and she thought I must be suffering all these deprivations and do the hardest kind of work, which you really call 'doing nothing.' Why not try Marmola's? I'm feeling almost as good as a new girl and not losing any sleep over it, either, get my four squares and my bottle, and I don't pass anything in the way of eating and drinking." Marmola said I "why, I never heard of it. What in the name of heaven it is. Is it possible, Helen," she replied, "that you have been taking some little New York and don't know what Marmola is? Why, it's the sensation of the day. It's just an ordinary doctor's prescription, but extraordinary in its results. I take a tea spoonful after every meal and one before retiring and just keep along my leisurely pace, letting Marmola keep me down in weight." Now," said Helen, "I took the girl's advice and in consequence I got down from 176 to 140 pounds in a month. I'm teaching dancing to a very of prospective Casino girls, all of whom are taking Marmola."

The Marmola prescription reads: Half ounce Marmola, 1 half ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatized and half ounce Syrup Simplex. In these days, when there is so much eating and drinking, it is as well to see that you get Marmola in the original package, and then you have ample guarantee that for sheer merit of good results there is nothing to equal it. Don't confuse the Marmola Prescription with anything for which similar claims are put forth. It is in no sense a patent medicine. It is a doctor's prescription.

NEW POSTAL REGULATION BARNETT NOT FIRE MARSHAL

Newspapers Prohibited From Sending Papers When Time Expires.

MUST BE DISCONTINUED. DECLINES BOTH PLACES

Tri-Weeklies Cannot Be Sent Longer Than Six Months On Credit.

There went into effect on January 1st a new postal regulation on newspapers, which will have a material effect on newspapers, as the government, under this regulation, forces them to collect in advance all subscriptions, or he denied the privilege of the mails at pound rates. The law provides that papers cannot be mailed at pound rates after the subscription has lapsed the following lengths of time: Daily papers, three months; tri-weeklies; six months; semi-weeklies, nine months; and weeklies one year. While the rule was sent out the first of the year, the publishers are given until April 1st to get their affairs into shape to observe the rule. We call the attention of our subscribers to this new law and urge them to look at the date on the label which tells when their subscription has expired. Ever subscription for The Kentuckian must be marked up to 1908 by the first of April or we will, under the law, be forced to discontinue it.

A STRAY BULLET

From a Co. H Soldier Found a Stopping Place.

A soldier belonging to Co. H was in the armory of Co. D last Thursday and had his Krag-Jorgensen gun with him. Somehow the gun "went off" and the long, deadly missile went off, too, on a circuit. Passing through the floor of the armory, then the plank ceiling below it landed through the plaster and before its force was spent it dug a hole out of the brick nearly large enough for a good sized boy to put his fist in. The bullet was picked up from the postoffice floor.

The Kentucky Union of the Society of Equity met at Henderson Thursday. Speeches were made condemning Gov. Willson's charges, one of them declaring that the Society in Kentucky was greater than the Government and that the national organization eclipsed President Roosevelt "with Secretary Taft thrown in."

The condemnation of the Governor took place the very day that the President of the Society declined to become a part of the State administration. Mr. Barnett, in declining to be Fire Marshal, has done a very sensible thing, and has relieved everybody concerned of serious embarrassment.

Soldiers at Cynthiaana.

A detachment of the Cynthiaana company of the State Guard is on duty in the outskirts of that city to protect it from a raid by night riders. The tobacco warehouses are guarded by men in the employ of the owners.

DO YOU KNOW HIM?

Description of The Leader of The Night Riders.

Several citizens who were "corralled" during the raid in this city Dec. 7, and had an opportunity to study closely the leader of the night riders, agree upon this description: "He was tall and erect, except shoulders slightly stooped. Was a man of middle age, as his short iron gray chin whiskers were visible below the mask he wore. He gave his orders in a quick, emphatic tone. His step was firm, elastic and springy. His manner was watchful, but cool and free from excitement.

He wore a brownish black overcoat and a black slouch hat, both old in appearance. His legs were long, wide apart and slightly bowed at the knees. He walked with a peculiar swing. He carried an army pistol with barrel about 8 inches long. He was addressed as "captain." Does anybody know him?

Twin Girl Died.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed H. Hester have the sympathy of their friends and acquaintances in the loss of their little girl, which occurred last Thursday. Their home-made happy by the appearance of a baby and a girl Friday, Jan. 7th. The little girl was not strong at birth and gradually lost strength until her death. A short service conducted by H. D. Smith, was held at the residence, 209 East Eighteenth street, Friday morning and the interment was in Riverside Cemetery.

Flying Ship in 1709.

In the Evening Post, a London newspaper published in the reign of Queen Anne, bearing date 10th 2022 Decem. ber, 1709, there is a curious description of a flying ship, stated to have been invented by Bartolomeo Lorenzini, a Venetian priest. The paper was an engraving of the ship and a description. The inventor claimed that he could travel 200 miles in 24 hours.

Diamond Proof Against Acid.

There is no acid which has any perceptible effect upon a genuine diamond. Hydrofluoric acid, if dropped on a stone made of glass, will corrode it, but will not affect a diamond one way or the other. A trained eye can see the hardness in a diamond, whereas the imitations appear soft to the vision of the expert.

FROM ONE FORMULA

SIX TASTY AND ATTRACTIVE DISHES MAY BE MADE.

Ingredients Required Are Simple and Always on Hand—Dough Rolls a Welcome Addition to Any Menu.

I have found, after a great many experiments, that no less than six tasty, attractive and extremely economical dishes may be made from this one simple but reliable formula, properly carried out, writes "A. M. B." in the Delinester. The ingredients required are: One quart of sifted flour, five teaspoonfuls of baking powder, half a cupful of butter, one small teaspoonful of sugar, half a small teaspoonful of salt and sufficient milk to make the dough of a soft consistency.

My method of mixing is to sift the baking powder with the flour. I then add the sugar, which has been sifted, have been cut into small pieces, and follow with the sugar and salt. I mix all these ingredients together thoroughly with the hands, rubbing the butter well into the flour, after which I add the milk. I then mix as lightly and hands as little as possible.

With this dough as a foundation it will be easy to prepare any one of the following dishes:

1. Tea Biscuits.—Place the dough on the mixing-board and flatten it with the hand until it is no more than an inch in thickness, but do not use the rolling pin upon it. Cut the biscuits with a tumbler, cup or biscuit cutter, and bake in a buttered tin, in a moderate oven for about half an hour.

2. Dutch Rolls.—Roll the dough out until it is about half an inch thick; then dot it with small bits of butter, about half an inch apart. Sprinkle generously with sugar, and roll as if making a roti-poti; then cut in slices, each about an inch thick, and bake in a well-buttered pan in a hot oven for about an hour.

3. Raisin Loaf.—Make the mixture as directed, but add half a pound of raisins before adding the milk; then bake in a bread tin in a slow oven for three-quarters of an hour.

4. Shortcake.—Mix as directed; little girl, in a round tin for half an hour. Split the cakes and butter them while hot; afterwards place a layer of fresh fruit or preserves between them and serve with sifted sugar and whipped cream.

5. Pudding.—Mix as directed; roll the dough until it is about half an inch thick; then cover it with fresh fruit and roll it up. Place it in a granite dish or earthen bowl and steam for half an hour. If preferred, the dough may be covered with jam or jelly, and, after being rolled up lightly, baked, a process that will take about three-quarters of an hour.

6. Pie Crust.—This mixture will also make a good plain pie crust, and is especially good when used in making meat pies. (Copyright, 1907, The Delinester, New York.)

Oriental Trinkets.

Everything oriental is fashionable this season, from the material to the buttons and buckles. One of the newest character buckles are seen on the newest belts and red and yellow Chinese chameleons set in jade are extremely smart, according to a writer in Dress. Many of the newest jewelry ornaments are ornamented with Japanese coral buttons set in rims of gold, or large silver gilt buttons with the Chinese dragon. Even the new Marie Antoinette fashions are worn pins of scarabaeus wings in oriental designs set with amethyst, coral, or turquoise.

Boiled Salad Dressing.

Yolks of three eggs, one teaspoon mustard, one teaspoon salt, two tablespoonfuls of vinegar, one dish of cayenne, two tablespoonfuls melted butter or oil, one and one-half cups rich milk, one cup hot vinegar, one and one-half tablespoonfuls cornstarch. Bring the milk to a boil in a double boiler; heat the vinegar to the boiling point. Mix dry ingredients thoroughly and moisten with a little milk. Add yolks and blend into a paste immediately with hot vinegar. When cooked smooth and thick stir in butter or oil.

To Clean Furniture.

Go over the furniture with a cloth dipped in paraffin oil and allow it to stand for an hour, which will loosen the dirt. Next wash the furniture with a mud made of pure soap and rain water. Rub very dry with a soft cloth and polish with a piece of white tanned dipped in turpentine. This will not injure a piano, but restores the brilliant polish. Furniture gets dull because it's dirty and needs to be cleaned with soap and water.

Ruffled-Net Curtain.

To do up ruffled net curtaining, stretch out on a sheet after starching. Pin just to the edge and leave until dry. Take up and iron only on the ruffles, dampening as you go along. This will leave the curtain perfectly straight.

Telegraph Clothes Line.

An ordinary telegraph wire makes a better line to hang clothes on than the usual rope line, as it does not break, sag or rot. It is wiped off easily and made clean.

New Piping.

The increasing demands for piping has made the progressive dressmaker seek for some more perfect and easy method of making her dress trimmings. The shop is now showing bias-seamed tapes of good quality and very

GONE OUT OF BUSINESS.

Cities Find That Individuals Can Run Their Plants More Economically. The mayor of Lowell, Ind., is authority for the statement that the municipal electric light plant was sold early in September to parties who will install a new plant. Apparently the city plant had been allowed to run down until it was ready for the scrap heap. In 1900 the citizens of Le Roy, N. Y., voted to purchase the electric light plant. After operating it a few months the city took advantage of a technicality and turned it over to the former owners without having made any payment to them. It is stated that while run by the city the operating expenses alone exceeded by 60 per cent the entire cost of lights under private management.

In 1907 a municipal electric light plant was established at Mohawk, N. Y., bonds for $21,000 being issued in payment therefor. By 1904 the authorities realized that it was costing too much, the generating plant was shut down, and a contract was made with a company to supply current, take full charge of maintaining the street lights and pump the water for the village. This arrangement is said to be satisfactory.

In 1908 Ballard, Wash., installed an electric light plant at an initial cost of $24,000, which was doubtless increased considerably during the ten years the plant was operated by the city. In 1903 the plant was leased for five years to a company which paid $3,800 for the lease and its franchise and agreed to do a certain amount of pumping for the city waterworks during the continuance of the lease. A well informed citizen of Seattle, to which Ballard has recently been annexed, writes:

"The reason that the city of Ballard sold its municipal lighting plant was that the total income from this plant equaled about 30 per cent of the cost of operating it."

SOLD AT LARGE LOSSES.

Four Towns Find Municipal Plants Are Too Expensive.

In Iuka, Miss., an electric light plant was installed in 1900 at a cost of $7,000. In December, 1906, it was leased because of the "difficulty in keeping a competent electrician," to quote the words of the mayor.

From Council Grove, Kan., comes word that the "city formerly owned the electric light plant, but made a failure of operating it and sold dynamo engine and wiring for $650. The present company rebuilt the entire system and is giving satisfaction. The rate was a little lower under city control, but did not meet expenses."

Some time prior to 1902 Bourbon, Ind., contracted for an electric light plant and issued bonds in payment therefor. On the ground that it had not been constructed in accordance with the specifications of the town, it refused to accept it, and the bondholders were compelled to take over the plant in order to protect themselves.

In one town, Ind., a municipal electric light plant in 1896 at a cost of $13,000, not including steam plant. Two years later the plant was sold for $5,000. The operating expenses had increased to about $45 a lamp, which implies a total cost per lamp of approximately $100 a year. The purchasers agreed to supply lights at $80 per lamp to install and operate an electric railway.

Middlemen.

The first step in effecting a mutual understanding between the public and the utilities companies is to eliminate the middlemen—the legislators who introduce strike bills in order to extort money from corporations whose legitimate business is threatened and the city bosses and councilmen who demand money for themselves or position for their henchmen as the price of granting franchises or privileges necessary to these companies to conduct or extend their business—for the public welfare. These men are not, as they claim, representatives of the people, but traitors to the people, for every dollar which they wring from corporations comes ultimately from the pockets of the people. These men perform no useful service. They are merely leeches, fattening on the mutual needs of the people and the corporations.

There's a Reason.

Municipality governed plants do not have the close supervision that is given to a plant conducted by a corporation or private company.

The officers in charge of a municipal plant are usually satisfied if the books balance up at the end of their term. They have no interest in the institution beyond the time of their term of office. "Let the next administration take care of that problem," is the usual reply when future troubles are anticipated. And that is the reason why the "next administration" is often compelled to make municipal ownership appear as a failure.—Maywood (Ill.) Herald-Recorder.

Where Ignorance is Bliss.

In response to a request for a copy of the latest report of the electric light plant the city clerk of Topeka, Kan., writes:

"The city owns its own plant and has no reports." As this is but one of many similar replies, it looks as though city officials realize the danger of letting the people know the facts and that the average citizen is strangely uninquaint about the spending of public money.

SERVING THE FOWL.

TWO DELICIOUS WAYS OF PREPARING CHICKEN.

When Pressed It Makes as Fine a Dish as Could Be Desired—Steamed with Rice and Mushrooms.

Pressed Chicken.—Cover a young fowl, cut in joints, with boiling water, and let simmer until tender, together with a few slices of carrot, half an onion, and a stalk of celery. Remove the skin and bones, and return them with the broth to the fire, and let simmer until reduced to about one cup; strain and set aside. When the flesh is nearly cold, cut into tiny cubes or chop fine; remove the fat from the broth, reheat, and stir the chicken into it, adding salt and pepper and other seasoning as desired. Decorate a mold with slices of hard-boiled eggs; in this pack the hot chicken, cover with a buttered paper bearing a weight, and let stand until cold and set. Serve, sliced thin, with salad.

Steamed Fowl with Rice and Mushrooms.—Trim a fowl for boiling, rub with the cut side of a lemon and lay on slices of salt pork or bacon and steam with an onion and two or three stalks of celery until tender—three hours or longer. Have ready a mound of boiled rice, seasoned with butter and salt, and dispose the fowl upon this. Arrange mushrooms cooked in the usual manner about the rice. Serve with the strained chicken liquor, thickened with flour and enriched with two egg yolks, beaten with a half cupful of cream.

Jellied Chicken.—Boil a chicken and let it get cold in the liquor. Skim the liquor from every particle of fat. Remove all the skin and bones from the chicken and cut the meat into pieces of uniform size. Soak a half-cup of gelatin in a half-cup of cold water. Mix with the chicken a dozen sliced olives cut up small and two dozen canned mushrooms, also cut small. Bring the chicken liquor to a boil, add the soaked gelatin and when this is dissolved take from the fire and set aside to cool. When it begins to "jelly," pour a little of it into a mold wet with cold water, put in a layer of the chicken mixture and when this begins to stiffen add more of the jelly and more of the chicken, continuing in this way until the mold is full. Set in the ice chest for 24 hours. When ready to serve wipe off the outside of the mold with a cloth wrung out in hot water and turn the chicken out upon a chilled platter.

Cleaning Rings.

Rings set with precious stones should always be inspected from time to time to ascertain if the gems are at all loose, especially in the case of claw settings. It is also a good plan to have the rings periodically in warm soapsuds, to which a few drops of sal volatile have been added, an exception being made, however, in the case of turquoise, which should not be damped down in any way. The ring settings should be cleaned by means of a wisp of blotting paper rolled into the form of a shading "stump" and worked into the interstices so as to clear them of any accumulation of dirt.

The First-Aid Valve.

The latest production of those purveyors who are always inventing something useful for the motorist is called the first-aid valve. It is a small but very useful pendulum of remedies for bruises, cuts and other ills that may, alas! befall the traveler on an automobile.

Rolls of lint, tanks of cooling lotions, scissors, a small bottle of bandage and other items of first-aid utility are contained in a little leather box, the color of which must be determined by the lining of the car.

Sunshine Cake.

Three-quarters cups of butter and two cups sugar creamed, yolks of ten eggs, two and one-half cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one cup milk, one teaspoon of lemon or orange. Bake in steady oven 50 minutes and frost with yellow frosting, made of the yolk of one egg, one tablespoon water and one teaspoon lemon or orange flavoring. Add confectioner's sugar till thick enough to spread.

Bedroom Set in Applique.

Bedroom sets in shadow-work applique are charming, and may be used over white or colored linings, and the effect of these filmy embroideries over highly polished woods must be seen to be appreciated.

In laundering this class of work it must be pulled and smoothed into place before it becomes dry.

A cloth should be placed between it and the iron, and the pressing continued until the article is thoroughly dry.

A pretty fancy is the use of shallow boxes in the framing of small prints. Photographic views, carefully colored with Japanese sea paints, are set in boxes one to one and a half inches deep. Some of the prettiest of these are set in gray wood, the tint of weather exposed albinos. The coloring of the photographs is not difficult to learn. The amateur photographer will find this a suggestion for utilizing summer vacation "takes" for the recreation of a special room or for charming and inexpensive Xmas gifts.

To Remove Scorch.

Any article which has become scorched in ironing, if placed directly in the sun, will be restored to its natural color. No trace of the scorch will remain.

NEW ZEALAND'S RAILWAYS.

Keen Financial Analysis by Professor Le Rosignol of Denver.

A recent issue of Moody's Magazine contains a thorough analysis of "New Zealand Railway Finance" by Professor J. E. Le Rosignol of the University of Denver. The writer points out that the New Zealand Government, which owns the railways, "borrows money at 5.75 per cent and latterly at 4 per cent for the maintenance of railways which earn less than 1.50 per cent upon the capital cost and this yearly deficit of over 2.25 per cent must ultimately fall upon the taxpayers."

Commenting on a tabular exhibit of the finances, Professor Le Rosignol says:

"From these figures it is clear that the capital cost of the roads had increased out of all proportion to the increase in mileage, that the working expenses have increased much faster than the gross earnings and that the net loss in ten years has amounted to the enormous sum of $4,880,147, or more than $21,000,000, and this in a time of great prosperity, which cannot be expected to last forever."

After showing that fares average about the same as in this country the service is described as follows:

"There are no night trains, and the service on most of the lines is rather infrequent. The best service in New Zealand is that between Christchurch and Dunedin, where there are two express trains daily, traveling at a speed of twenty-five miles an hour. On most of the other lines express trains travel from fifteen to twenty miles an hour and ordinary trains from ten to fourteen miles an hour."

The author goes into considerable detail in regard to freight rates, which he considers to average about five times those of the United States. The most serious charge against the management is that it lends itself to political uses:

"Politics has had altogether too much to do with the construction of roads, the appointment and promotion of officials, the frequency of service, the fixing of rates and the department of administration in general. Railways have frequently been built for the sake of securing votes rather than traffic and business has been not often subordinated to politics that it is no wonder that the net returns are political rather than financial in their character."

DEAD OR DYING.

Reaction Is Slow, but Sure, Against Civic Commercialism.

The mayor of Holland, Mich., writes that negotiations are on foot to have a private company supply the lighting. It would cost $30,000 to put the municipal plant in condition for efficient service.

At a citizens' meeting recently held in Trenton, Mich., the city council was induced to enter into negotiations for the sale of the electric light plant.

Chester, Ill., has voted against the purchase of the waterworks system. Manitowoc, Wis., recently voted two to one against purchasing the waterworks and four to three in favor of submitting the question of rates to the state commission. Only about a quarter of the regular vote was polled, which is not encouraging to advocates of the "referendum."

By a vote of 229 to 44 the people of Washington, Ind., rejected a scheme for remodeling the municipal lighting plant notwithstanding the alternative presented by the common council of providing for extensive repairs or eventually abandoning the business of municipal lighting. The plant has fallen behind year after year, although liberal appropriations have been made for its support, and repairs have been neglected till it is little better than a mass of junk. An expert who recently examined it decided that it would require $38,000 to put the plant in good running order, and the people were asked to vote on the question of expense. The negative vote means that the plant will be sold.

Who Profits?

Politicians usage municipal affairs in such a way that their own interests are cared for first and public service is only a minor and subsidiary feature. Money collected from taxpayers is spent for the benefit of the "gang" instead of for that of the people, and the consequence is that enterprises conducted by the city are invariably not merely ill managed, but enormously expensive.

There is no reason to hope that this state of affairs will be changed so long as human nature remains what it is, and therefore the people will not be likely in their sober senses to intrust any public utility that can safely be left in the hands of private enterprise to any city government.—Chicago Journal.

The Dream and the Reality.

Municipal jobs are usually given out as political rewards. The fitness of the applicant, his faithfulness to duty, his honesty, integrity and industry are all secondary considerations. His faithfulness and his value to party or faction are of first importance to the party managers, who really run all municipal plants. The result is indifference and extravagance, high costs of production and operation—in short, the complete annihilation of the beautiful dream of the dreamer.—Connellsville (Pa.) Courier.

The Tax Rate in Indiana.

Indiana is one of the few states that have a bureau of statistics. Its latest report shows that the tax rate in the twenty-eight cities which operate their own light and water plants is $1.06, while the rate in the other fifty-seven cities is only $1.17.

MUNICIPAL LUNACY.

By JOHN KENDRICK BANGS.

The greatest invasion of the rights of private parties as yet recorded is alleged to have occurred recently at Albany, N. Y., where, according to a dispatch from the local correspondent of a New York paper, a citizen unknown, dissatisfied with the quality of the tax pavements, covered them with feathers, with the usual result. This is the first time in the history of American municipalities that a town has been so treated and feathered. We hope the tendency will stop with this beginning, for we should not like to wake up some morning to find that our chosen city had either been lynch-rod or ridden upon a rail.

The latest report of the government telegraphs and telephones of Great Britain shows a loss for the year of $5,000,000. The proportion of this properly borne by the telephone department is an indication that, as far as the taxpayers of Britain are concerned, talk is no cheaper than it used to be.

Orange, Tex., is one of the latest towns to come in out of the wet. That city constructed a small waterworks system some years ago and operated it for several years prior to 1902 at a clear loss. In that year the city entered into a lease with a private company, and the other day the contract was revised and renewed for twenty years. We are glad to note that at least one Orange recognizes a lemon when it smells and refuses to allow itself to be squeezed any longer.

How would you like to eat butter made by the fair hand of a plumber? Not much, eh? Well, look out for the man who proposes to have your house supplied with gas made under the expert eye of the ward politician who has studied statesmanship and civics in the same precincts of a corner saloon. The particular kind of gas in which he exerts may be the kind that cannot be blown out, but you will seldom find it illuminating until your tax bill comes in.

As to municipal ownership of street railways, did you ever stop to figure out the ownership of a road that would run, say, from Portland, Me., to Portsmouth, N. H., passing as it does through Biddeford, Saco, Kennebunk, the townships of Wells and York, and through Kittery into Portsmouth? They used to say that it was a wise child that knew his own father, but he would be an idiot alongside of a railway that, passing through so many civic hands as that mentioned above, recognized its dotting parent. Solomon himself would have been sorely taxed in rendering judgment in a case like that, and those who are familiar with the Scriptures are aware that in matters of that precise kind he was the wisest man on record.

Ex-Mayor Weaver of Philadelphia advocates the establishment of a municipal bank. It isn't a bad idea. It will enable the grafter in public office to get at the money of the people without all the wearisome and sordid detail at present necessary to the accomplishment of the same ends. Then, too, depositors who are careful about their accounts will know to a cent just how much they are being despoiled of, which in these days of indiscriminate municipal looting is truly an advantage.

Philadelphia Suburbanites Aggrieved. When Philadelphia leased its gas works ten years ago, it retained one plant, which serves the Tacony and Holmesburg districts. In recording the action of a meeting of the citizens of these districts, when a committee was appointed to carry their grievances to the mayor, the Philadelphia Record says:

"The plant was built twenty-five years ago and is declared to be in an irreparable condition, affording an inadequate and inferior supply of gas, although a handsome profit is returned to the city each year by its operation. The capacity of the plant has not been improved to keep pace with the growth of that section of the city. Frequent breaks in the mains leave the householders without gas."

Sample Civil Service Examination.

This comes from Canada. A politician there was appointed to a position which technically had to be filled by a lawyer, which the appointee was not. In order to obviate the technicality a board of examiners was appointed to question him as to his knowledge of the law. The first question by the board was, "What do you know about the law?" and the modest response was, "To tell the truth, I do not know a single thing." Whereupon the board intimated that the questioning was at an end and submitted a report on the examination, in which it was gravely stated: "We have examined the appointee as to his knowledge of the law, and to the best of our knowledge and belief he has answered all the questions with entire correctness."—Cincinnati Citizen's Bulletin.

A Long Beat.

After a short residence in this country an Irishman applied for appointment on the police force. While undergoing the civil service examination he was asked among other questions if he knew the distance between New York and St. Francisco, and he replied dubiously: "Well, I don't know the distance exactly, but if that's going to be my bet I don't want the job."—Exchange.

ONLY ONE.

The Record in Hopkinsville Is A Unique One.

If the reader has a "bad back" or any kidney ill and is looking for relief and cure, better depend on the only remedy endorsed by people you know. Doan's Kidney Pills relieve quickly—cure permanently. Hopkinsville citizens testify to this. Here is a case of it:

J. W. Pritchett, 762 E. Seventh street, Hopkinsville, Ky., says:

"Four years ago Doan's Kidney Pills which I procured at L. A. Johnson & Co's. drug store brought me such great relief that I was glad to tell the people of Hopkinsville my experience with the remedy. Before using them, pains existed in my kidneys and in the back which caused me a great deal of annoyance. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised so highly that I concluded to try them. They proved to be an excellent remedy, relieving me of the aching in my back and helping me in other ways. In 1939 he published in Doan's Kidney Pills and I am sure if people who have kidney trouble will use them according to directions they will be satisfied with the results obtained."

SOLDIER BOYS ARE HAPPY.

Willing to Stay Here Longer
if Prevailing Conditions
Demand It.

CITY GIRLS ARE SWEET

All Well Fed and Quartered and Health is Unusually Good.

The soldier boys are taking life easy and seem to be having the time of their lives. Nobody can say a word against their deportment. When it is remembered that they are a lot of young fellows away from home with nothing to do but wait for something to "turn up," their conduct since they arrived here on the morning of December 17th has been extraordinarily good. They are a hearty, hustling lot of fellows always in a good humor and watching out for fun.

Capt. Dan Carrell, who is in command, has the company out for drill every day and large crowds of citizens gather on the streets to see them go through with their evolutions.

The officers are a fine lot of gentlemen and make friends of every one they meet. They are ideal officers, and though strict disciplinarians, they allow their men all the liberties consistent when soldiers are on duty. First Lieutenant B. J. Stark is always active, energetic, warm-hearted and "takes" with all with whom he comes in contact.

Second Lieutenant B. F. Offutt is making friends "right straight along." Jovial, unassuming and fond of a soldier's life he makes a model officer, and is popular with his men and has their utmost confidence.

Dr. L. P. Spears, the company's surgeon, has proven himself a man in every sense of the word. He is as watchful of the health of "the boys" as a mother with her first born. The hospital is over the corner of Sixth and Main streets and the Doctor always has every thing ready for the relief of men that become ill or that may be the victims of an accident. The health of the troops has been unusually good since they have been here, not a serious case of any kind having been reported to Dr. Spears since Co. H. has been with us.

Quartermaster W. H. Meadows is all that could be desired in an officer who has to furnish a lot of young soldiers with good appetites with something to satisfy the inner man. Quartermaster Meadows, when in Louisville is called Lieutenant, as he is Second Lieutenant in one of the companies composing the Third Infantry Ky. S. G. Everybody likes him and the soldiers are loud in their praise of their efficient quartermaster, for he is giving the men a great many other things besides the proverbial "hard tack" of a soldier's camp life. They all enjoy their steaming, strengthening coffee and often tip their cups and drink to the good luck of the quartermaster.

Capt. Carrell realizes the peculiar position in which he is placed and he certainly is the man to watch over a little city of 12,000 people. He is constantly on the qui vive and never tires in the discharge of his duties. He is "it" here to a certainty. Though he has been away from his family for two weeks "roughing it," he is willing to stay here as long as Governor Wilson may desire. He is quite a busy man and never stays very long in one place. At Hotel Latham, where Gen. Johnston and Fire Marshal Ayres hold their consultations, Capt. Carrell's presence is at times in great demand. As soon as he attends to a matter there he is off for some other place where he is needed. His company, which is "the apple of his eye," ever is his chief care.

Sergeant H. L. Harper is one of the active men of the company. He is a highly intelligent man and faithful to every duty. His officers hold him in high esteem and know that any order entrusted to him will be faithfully executed. No one would think that Sergeant Harper is an athlete, for he does not look it. Thin-breasted and apparently not well muscled he does everything but a man of strength and endurance. He is a sprinter and since he first came here he was called to Louisville to take a part in a foot-race for which the regiment's athletes had entered. He won two medals before coming back to Hopkinsville.

The Christmas dinner given to the soldiers at Hotel Latham still lingers in the memory of Co. H. They say they are in love with Hopkinsville and have not been home-sick "a little bit," because the citizens are treating them so well.

The boys, after guard duty, are anxious to get back to Police Court, where none of them have been arraigned at any time, but their quarters are in Judge Brasher's room and it is always warm and comfortable in every way.

The young ladies of the city are very attractive, and the boys in blue say they have never seen such an aggregation of feminine loveliness as they see on the streets of the "Pearl of the Pennyryle"—unless on Fourth avenue in Louisville. Of course many of the boys left sweethearts at home, but from indications there are some Louisville girls going to be left in the matrimonial race. That is a foregone conclusion. To the relief of the young ladies of the city who are almost in love with some of Col. Haldeman's boys, we are authorized to say that, besides the Captain and Surgeon of the company, there are but two or three men here who left their better half in Louisville. It is for the young ladies to find out who the married men are.

The soldiers are always ready for duty and never neglect it for pleasure. They keep their arms always ready for inspection, and, barring a very few, they always look fresh and bright. They say when they are on the streets somebody is always trying to add to their contentment, happiness and comfort. The young men appreciate this to the fullest and would "die in the last ditch" for Hopkinsville people.

Going on post duty at night is something that the soldiers really enjoy. They say that the reason for the different avenues leading into the city always extend the welcome hand and "set up" a hot lunch during the night and strive in every way to make the night vigils as pleasant as possible.

The daily routine is as follows: 7 o'clock a. m., breakfast; 8:30, sick call; 12, dinner; 1:30 p. m., company drill; 5:30, supper.

A more contented lot of men was never seen, and though the present life may be monotonous, still some of the boys have expressed a wish that somebody in authority at Frankfort or Louisville would not forget that soldiers on duty smoke more, chew more tobacco and eat more confectionery and fruit than when at home giving their vocations. Which, being interpreted, means that Col. Haldeman would make glad the hearts of Co. H. if he would interest himself and have a little cash sent down for incidental expenses.

MAYORS MEET

Fourth Class Cities Organize.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 8.—At a meeting of the mayors of cities of the fourth class, held here yesterday J. T. Earle, mayor of Latonia, was elected chairman and Mayor C. E. Woods, of Richmond, secretary. The purpose of the meeting is to secure certain legislation which the fourth class cities of the state are said to be badly in need of, in towns have grown beyond the statute and laws in harmony with their growth are desired.

Only a temporary organization was effected and the mayors adjourned to meet here again next Monday when they will determine upon the measures which they will introduce in the Legislature. Headed by Mayor Earle, the city executives yesterday called upon Governor Wilson, Lieutenant Governor Cook and speaker Gooch and acquainted them with the purpose of their meeting.

GATLING AT LEXINGTON

Sheriff has Authority From Governor to call out Militia if Necessary.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 8.—A Gatling gun manned by expert artillerymen, guards the approach to the Lexington tobacco warehouse district tonight. A squad of twenty-five policemen are on duty there and Sheriff McElroy has authority from the Governor to call the local company of militia into instant service, should a raid of night riders be made on this city. These were the precautions taken tonight by the authorities, after the committee which went to Frankfort to confer with the governor had returned.

The night rider scare is driving the independent growers all over the Burley district to rush their tobacco to this city for sale. This afternoon about 800 wagons loaded with tobacco were lined up in the streets leading to the warehouse waiting to be unloaded.

Nearly half a million pounds were sold at auction warehouses today, the record price for the season of twenty-nine cents being reached by one lot.

STATE GUARD

Gov. Willson Appoints Commission of Three Officers to Investigate.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 8.—A complete reorganization of the Kentucky State Guard may follow from an act of the Governor today. He named a commission of three officers in the guard to investigate the condition of the guard thoroughly and determine what, if anything, is wrong with the military arm of the State.

The commission is composed of Capt. Harry Grinstead of the First Kentucky, Maj. Alvin Gilmore of the Second Kentucky, and Maj. E. B. Bassett of the Third Kentucky.

Threat Kills Councilman.

Central City Ky., Jan. 7.—John Soder, a member of the city council and one of the best citizens died suddenly. He received a threatening letter some days ago and it is thought that it preyed on his mind to the extent of producing death from nervous depression. The letter demanded Soder's resignation and contained a threat against the life of his son.

Soldiers at Lebanon.

Adj. Gen. P. P. Johnston ordered a lieutenant and ten men of the First regiment to Lebanon to protect the factory of the American Tobacco Company at that place. Lebanon has been threatened by the night riders for several days.

$8,000,000 For Autos.

Nearly $8,000,000 was spent in the United States during 1905 for motor cars, according to the estimates made by the Association of License Automobile Manufacturers.

Boies Convalescent.

Former Gov. Horace Boies, of Iowa, who has been ill from pneumonia in a hospital at El Paso, is now regarded as completely out of danger, if no relapse occurs.

REWARD

Of $500 For Night Riders Offered By Governor.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 8.—The work of the night riders in Bath and Fleming counties, which resulted in the destruction of valuable property, in the towns of Bethel and Sherbourne, resulted in Gov. Willson offering a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of any man connected with the raid. The proclamation of reward offered by the Gov. also includes the same reward for advance information which would lead to the arrest and conviction of any man who had planned or was planning to make a raid in either Bath, Fleming, Montgomery and Bourbon counties as well as the half dozen counties named by him in the proclamation last week. Gov. Willson is determined to break up the work of the night riders, if possible, and any counties where it is believed a conspiracy has been formed to endanger life and property will be included in his offer of reward for advance information which will enable the county or State authorities to be ready to receive the mob when they enter a town.

LITTLE BOY

Knocked Down and Run Over, Slightly Injured.

Jimmie, the little son of Ernie Higgins, had a rather close call when he was on his way home from the West Side school Thursday. Another boy, who was driving a surrey did not notice that Jimmie was in the street as he turned the corner. The unlucky boy was struck by the horse and knocked down, both left wheels passed over him. Fortunately the wheel had rubber tires and the little fellow was not seriously injured, though he had trouble walking to his home on North Main street, near the bridge.

Buy New Coach.

At a meeting of the directors of Cadiz railroad at Cadiz, President W. C. White was instructed to buy a new passenger coach for the road. The coach now in use was bought at second hand when the road was first built about six years ago.
